

Why Choose Geffen Mesher for your Asia Pacific Needs?

The world we knew when Geffen Mesher first began serving local businesses and individuals in the 1930s is vastly different than the one we know today. Even though we are proud of the lineage and legacy of our firm, we continue to look forward into the ever-changing dynamics of a global business world in order to provide clients with services that support their efforts to expand, grow, and stay ahead.

Geffen Mesher has taken very targeted steps to grow our international services, with a specific focus in Asia Pacific, with a team of five local professionals who speak fluent Chinese. Our agile, adept team of multilingual professionals understands the cutting edges of our industry, and can support you as you expand across borders and focus areas.

For some clients, conducting international business is simply another day at the office. We see this especially in the manufacturing, lumber, commodities, biotechnology and automotive sectors, where the sizes of businesses tend to be larger. However, we also see this with our smaller clients, from international law firms to new real estate ventures that include investors from different parts of the world.

In addition, Geffen Mesher is a member firm of DFK International, an organization whose reach provides us more than 214 partner firms in nearly every corner of the world, meaning we have the capacity and capabilities to support your business wherever business takes you. When you need a firm that speaks the many languages of business, count on Geffen Mesher.

TAX SERVICES

Our tax professionals are uniquely qualified to provide tax planning and consulting to companies whose footprint extends beyond the United States. Working cross-culturally, we support our clients with matters related to international tax consulting and compliance, income tax treaty analysis, international tax modeling and structuring, international mergers and acquisitions, transfer pricing, host country liaisons and more.

AUDIT SERVICES

Due to the rapidly changing global business environment, companies need accountants who are qualified to provide a full range of audit services. Our accounting and auditing team reflects our consistent approach to creating a high level of services that mitigate risks for our clients. We put the right accounting and auditing team together for you, aligning the strengths of our people with your immediate needs, long-term concerns, challenges and goals.

We work closely with controllers, inventory managers, and C-level executives in order to provide the right services and solutions every time, and to build a platform of services that grow and evolve with the business. While we tailor our accounting and auditing solutions to what each client needs, core services include financial statement audits, reviews and compilations, forecasts, agreed upon procedures, attestation engagements, cost certification, specialized reports, and accounting system design.

ADVISORY SERVICES

Many CPA firms offer tax compliance and financial statement services, but few can help you grow your business, hold on to hard-earned profits, and plan for the future. Geffen Mesher zeroes in on specific operations that are intended to drive growth, support employees, and protect your company's financial assets.
