BACKGROUND

Building and maintaining strong relationships differentiates Salina, and through those relationships she is able to provide additional value to her clients, from start-ups to very established businesses.

Salina thrives on mentoring her clients through the inevitable ups and downs of owning a business, cash flow issues, and life changes.

Through working with the same clients over several years, Salina enjoys the confidence they have in her abilities and her role as a trusted advisor. She also thrives on being involved with Geffen Mesher's recruiting program and serving as a mentor to less experienced staff.

She has a special affinity for her music clients, enjoying their creativity and being able to help them with state tax compliance since they often travel and perform in numerous states.

As a competitive soccer player for most of her life, Salina brings that same passion and focus to her work and home life today. When not serving her clients, she appreciates unplugging by spending quality time with her husband and young son.
